The Bucharest University of Economic Studies in the QS World University Rankings by Subject 2025

Bucharest, March 12, 2025

The Bucharest University of Economic Studies continues to be present, alongside ten other Romanian universities, in the QS World University Rankings by Subject 2025, released on March 12, 2025.

The Bucharest University of Economic Studies has climbed in the QS World University Rankings 2025 as compared to the 2024 edition, in the field of Social Sciences and Management, as follows: it is now ranked 351 – 400th overall in Economics and Econometrics, as compared to 401 – 450th in the previous edition, and 501– 550th in Business and Management, as compared to 601 – 620th last year. ASE remains the national leader in Economics and Econometrics.

QS World University Rankings is one of the leading international university rankings by subjects. The 2025 edition of the QS World University Rankings by Subject comprises 171 more universities than the previous edition and 55 subjects, grouped in five main fields. Higher education institutions are ranked on the basis of the following components: Academic reputation, Employer reputation, research citations per paper, H-index citations, and International research network.

With a tradition lasting for more than 110 years of academic excellence, ASE is the leader of economic and public administration higher education in Romania and South-Eastern Europe, with an outstanding international reputation, materialized in numerous international partnerships and its remarkable positioning in leading international university rankings. The Bucharest University of Economic Studies is a dynamic university, permanently adapting to the demands of the market economy, with a close liaison with the business environment and constantly offering new opportunities to its students.
